Botanical line-art accent — Bloom Again brand mark motif

A stylized open bloom with five delicate petals radiates from the brand wordmark — rendered in Sage Serenity line-art on Ivory Petal backgrounds, or reversed in Ivory Petal on Deep Root. The icon is always paired with the wordmark unless used in icon-only contexts (app icons, embossed print, favicons).

1.0 FOUNDATION

Brand Overview

"Bloom Again is a brand rooted in renewal, resilience, and human flourishing. Every visual and verbal decision reflects the belief that growth is always possible — no matter the season."

This guide exists to ensure every touchpoint communicates that promise with consistency and beauty. Whether you are designing a social post, writing an email, or building a campaign from scratch — the principles in this document are your compass.

Bloom Again occupies a rare space: warmly human, yet visually refined. Grounded in nature's rhythms, yet unmistakably contemporary. Every color chosen, every typeface set, every photograph selected carries the weight of that identity — and the responsibility to represent it faithfully.

1.1 Mission Statement

To create spaces, experiences, and visual touchpoints that remind people — in their most difficult seasons — that renewal is not only possible, but already underway.

1.2 Brand Promise

Every person who encounters the Bloom Again brand should feel seen, supported, and reminded that change is not only possible — it's already beginning.

1.3 Core Values

- Renewal: We believe in the human capacity to begin again — at any age, in any season.
- Resilience: Strength is not the absence of struggle; it is growth in spite of it.
- Flourishing: Our goal is not survival — it is full, beautiful, abundant life.

- Authenticity: We speak plainly, honestly, and with warmth. No performance. No pretense.
- Community: Growth rarely happens alone. We cultivate belonging.

Brand Essence in One Line

"No matter the season, something is always growing."

Color Palette

The Bloom Again color system is drawn from the natural world — blush petals, sage leaves, ivory light, rich earth, open sky, and warm sunrise. Each color has a defined role, and discipline in their application is what makes the brand feel cohesive and intentional.

	Bloom Blush	#F4A7B9	RGB(244, 167, 185)	Primary accent, CTAs, highlights, active states

	Sunrise Gold	#F2Co6E	RGB(242, 192, 110)	Energy, warmth, seasonal highlights, celebration moments

2.1 Color Usage Rules

Critical Color Rules

- Never place Bloom Blush on Sage Serenity — insufficient contrast for accessibility.
- Ivory Petal (#FDF6EC) is the default background in all compositions.
- Deep Root (#3B2F2F) is the default text color on all light backgrounds.
- Accent colors combined should not exceed 30% of any single composition.
- For all digital applications: ensure all text meets WCAG AA contrast ratio (4.5:1 for normal text, 3:1 for large text).
- Sunrise Gold is reserved for seasonal or celebratory contexts — use sparingly.
- Sky Renewal pairs beautifully with Deep Root text; avoid pairing with Bloom Blush at scale.

2.2 Approved Color Pairings

Background	Text Color	Accent Color	Use Case
Ivory Petal (#FDF6EC)	Deep Root (#3B2F2F)	Bloom Blush / Sage Serenity	Primary brand layout, documents
Deep Root (#3B2F2F)	Ivory Petal (#FDF6EC)	Bloom Blush or Sunrise Gold	Hero sections, reversed headers
Sage Serenity (#7BAE8A)	Ivory Petal (#FDF6EC)	White or Deep Root	Banners, feature cards, CTAs

3.0 VISUAL IDENTITY

Typography

The Bloom Again type system balances editorial elegance with everyday legibility. Three typefaces serve distinct, non-interchangeable roles. Discipline in their application creates a visual rhythm that feels both refined and warm.

3.1 Primary Typeface — Cormorant Garamond

Primary Typeface

Style: Serif — elegant, editorial, classical with modern proportions
Weights Used: Light (300), Regular (400), SemiBold (600), Bold (700)
Usage: Display headings, pull quotes, cover text, hero typography

"Rooted in Hope. Growing Forward."
Sample — set at 48pt, Light weight in production

3.2 Secondary Typeface — DM Sans

Secondary Typeface

Style: Geometric sans-serif — modern, clean, highly legible

Weights Used: Regular (400), Medium (500), Bold (700)

Usage: Body copy, labels, captions, UI text, navigation, form fields

"Every bloom begins beneath the surface."

Sample — set at 16pt, Regular weight in production

3.3 Accent Typeface — Playlist Script

Accent / Decorative Typeface

Style: Handwritten script — warm, personal, handcrafted

Weight: Regular only

Usage: Decorative pull quotes, campaign taglines only — never for body text bloom again.

Sample — set at 36pt, Regular weight in production

Type Usage Rule

The accent typeface (Playlist Script) is a decorative-only element. It must never appear in body copy, navigation, UI labels, or any functional text role. Its beauty depends on its rarity — overuse destroys the effect.

3.4 Type Scale

Level	Size	Weight	Typeface	Usage Context
H1 Display	48pt	Light (300)	Cormorant Garamond	Cover pages, hero sections, campaign headers
H2 Section	32pt	SemiBold (600)	Cormorant Garamond	Major section headers, chapter titles
H3 Subsection	22pt	Bold (700)	DM Sans	Subsection titles, card headings, UI headers
Body	11pt	Regular (400)	DM Sans	All body copy, paragraphs, descriptions
Caption / Label	9pt	Medium (500)	DM Sans	Image captions, form labels, metadata, footnotes
Pull Quote	20pt	Light Italic	Cormorant Garamond	Featured quotations, testimonials, callouts
Decorative Tag	36pt	Regular	Playlist Script	Campaign taglines, decorative accents only

3.5 Typographic Rules

- Line height for body copy: 1.5× to 1.6× the font size.
- Maximum line length: 75 characters for comfortable reading.
- Do not use more than two typefaces in any single layout.
- Accent script may appear in Bloom Blush, Sage Serenity, or Sunrise Gold only.
- Never set body copy in italic — reserve italics for emphasis and pull quotes.
- Letter-spacing on display headings: +1pt to +2pt for elegance at large sizes.

Logo Usage Guidelines

The Bloom Again logo is our most recognized brand asset. It combines a stylized botanical bloom icon with the brand wordmark, and must be applied with care, consistency, and respect for the clear space and color rules defined below.

4.1 Primary Logo

The primary logo is a wordmark — "Bloom Again" — set in Cormorant Garamond SemiBold, paired with a stylized botanical bloom icon. The icon is a clean, line-art open flower with five symmetrical petals, referencing renewal and natural beauty without being literal or overly decorative.

Reference style: Bloom Again icon mark — five-petal open flower, line-art, Sage Serenity on Ivory Petal

4.2 Logo Variations

Variation	Composition	Preferred Context
Full Lockup (Horizontal)	Icon to the left of wordmark, horizontally aligned	Preferred use — website headers, email headers, marketing materials
Stacked Lockup (Vertical)	Icon centered above wordmark	Square formats — social media profiles, app store listings, event signage
Icon Only	Botanical bloom icon, no wordmark	App icons, favicons (16px+), embossed print, watermark use
Wordmark Only	"Bloom Again" text, no icon	Print letterhead, email signatures, text-constrained environments

4.3 Clear Space Rule

Clear Space Requirement

Maintain a minimum clear space of 1× the height of the capital "B" in "Bloom" on all four sides of the logo in every application. This space must be free of all other visual elements — text, imagery, decorative elements, and other logos.

4.4 Approved Color Versions

Version Name	Icon Color	Wordmark Color	Background
Full Color (Primary)	Sage Serenity #7BAE8A	Deep Root #3B2F2F	Ivory Petal #FDF6EC
Deep Root Monochrome	Deep Root #3B2F2F	Deep Root #3B2F2F	Any light background
Reversed (Light)	Ivory Petal #FDF6EC	Ivory Petal #FDF6EC	Deep Root or Sage Serenity
Bloom Blush Single Color	Bloom Blush #F4A7B9	Bloom Blush #F4A7B9	White #FFFFFF only

4.5 Logo Do's and Don'ts

✓ DO	✗ DON'T
Use approved color combinations only	Stretch, skew, or distort the logo proportions
Keep icon and wordmark proportions locked	Add drop shadows, outlines, or glows
Use vector source files (SVG, PDF, EPS) for print	Place on busy photography without a solid safe zone
Maintain clear space on all four sides	Recolor the icon separately from the wordmark

✓ DO	✗ DON'T
Use PNG at minimum 2x resolution for digital	Use below 24px (digital) or 0.75 inch (print) minimum size
Request updated logo files from the brand team	Recreate, redraw, or approximate the logo in any tool

Minimum Size Rule

Digital: Never use the full lockup below 24px height. Use Icon Only below that threshold.

Print: Never use the full lockup below 0.75 inches in height. Use embossed Icon Only for smaller print applications.

5.0 VISUAL LANGUAGE

Imagery Style

Photography and illustration are the emotional core of the Bloom Again visual system. Images should feel like a warm afternoon — inviting, honest, and full of quiet hope. Every image we select or commission makes a statement about who we are and who we serve.

5.1 Photography Direction

Attribute	Bloom Again Standard
Subject Matter	People in nature, hands in soil, flowers mid-bloom, sunlight through leaves, journaling, community gatherings, quiet moments of reflection

Attribute	Bloom Again Standard
Mood & Lighting	Warm, soft, golden-hour lighting — never harsh flash photography or cold, clinical tones
Color Treatment	Slightly desaturated with warm overlay; avoid high-contrast or dark moody edits
Composition	Rule of thirds, generous negative space, subjects oriented toward or into available light
Diversity Standard	Reflect broad human representation — various ages, skin tones, backgrounds, and life stages
Post-Processing	Soft vignette on outer edges; Ivory Petal tint overlay at 15–20% opacity on photographs

5.2 Illustration Style

- Line-art botanical illustrations in Sage Serenity (#7BAE8A) or Deep Root (#3B2F2F)
- Loose, hand-drawn quality — not rigid, geometric, or overly perfected
- Used as section dividers, background textures, and decorative page accents
- Never use filled/block illustrations — line-art only for the Bloom Again brand
- Stroke weight: consistent, approximately 1.5–2px at standard scale

5.3 Image Treatments

- Soft vignette on outer edges of all full-bleed photography
- Overlay tint: Ivory Petal (#FDF6EC) at 15–20% opacity on all brand photography
- Never use black-and-white photography in primary brand contexts
- Avoid heavy filters, dramatic color grading, or dark vignettes

Photography Avoid List

- Stock photo clichés — fake smiling in office, arms-crossed power poses, pointing at whiteboards
- Dark, dramatic, despairing, or hopeless imagery of any kind
- Overly polished, commercial-looking, or artificially lit images
- Images that center suffering without a clear arc toward hope
- Black-and-white photography in primary brand use

Tone of Voice

The Bloom Again voice is as important as any visual element. How we write — the words we choose, the rhythm of our sentences, the warmth in our tone — is part of the brand identity. Every piece of copy should feel like it comes from the same trusted, thoughtful source.

7.1 Brand Voice Pillars

1. Warm & Human

Write like a trusted friend, not a corporation. Use first and second person. Avoid clinical, distant, or passive language. The reader should feel addressed directly.

✓ Write This	✗ Not This
"You've got this. We're with you every step."	"Users may utilize the available wellness resources."

2. Hopeful & Grounded

Acknowledge real struggle while always pointing toward possibility. Avoid toxic positivity — be honest and encouraging simultaneously. Hope without honesty is hollow.

✓ Write This	✗ Not This
"Growth isn't always pretty, but it's always worth it."	"Just think positive!"

3. Poetic Without Being Precious

Use nature and botanical metaphors intentionally — they are core to the brand — but never overdo them. Every metaphor must earn its place by adding meaning, not decoration.

✓ Write This	✗ Not This
"Like any seed, the hardest part is the waiting."	"You are a delicate flower of the universe blooming into your full-spectrum luminescence."

4. Clear & Accessible

Plain language. Short sentences. No jargon. Accessible to a 7th-grade reading level minimum. If your grandmother and your 20-year-old can both understand it, you're on track.

7.2 Writing Rules

Copy Rules — Apply Universally

- Sentence length: Maximum 20 words for body copy.
- Avoid these words: "synergy," "leverage," "journey," "utilize," "impactful" (overused and hollow).
- Voice: Prefer active voice. Passive voice distances the reader.
- Em dashes — not parentheses — for emphasis and asides.
- Contractions are welcome: "we're," "you'll," "it's," "can't." They make copy feel human.
- Botanical metaphors: Maximum one per paragraph. Earn every metaphor.

8.0 BRAND CHARACTER

Brand Personality

The Bloom Again personality is a living, consistent character — the same across every touchpoint, every campaign, every piece of content. Understanding who we are — and who we are not — is as important as knowing our colors or typefaces.

8.1 The Five Personality Dimensions

Dimension	Bloom Again IS	Bloom Again IS NOT
Warmth	Nurturing, empathetic, fully present	Saccharine, preachy, or overbearing
Optimism	Grounded hope, forward-looking, honest	Naive, dismissive of real struggle
Authenticity	Real, raw, trustworthy, consistent	Performative, trend-chasing, curated
Creativity	Poetic, visual, expressively beautiful	Chaotic, inconsistent, gimmicky
Resilience	Steadfast, rooted, enduring over time	Rigid, inflexible, or resistant to growth

8.2 Brand Archetype

The Caregiver + The Creator

Primary Archetype — The Caregiver: Nurtures, protects, and guides others toward growth.

Makes people feel safe, seen, and cared for. Shows up consistently. Never abandons the person in the difficult season.

Secondary Archetype — The Creator: Expresses meaning through beauty, art, and intentional design. Believes that the world is improved through acts of creation. Finds hope in the act of making something beautiful.

8.3 Audience Emotional Promise

"When you encounter Bloom Again, you feel seen, supported, and reminded that change is not only possible — it's already beginning."

8.4 Brand in Three Words

Rooted. Warm. Alive.

Bloom Again Project | Brand Guide v1.0 | Confidential

9.0 STRUCTURAL DESIGN

Layout Ratios & Grid System

Consistent layout architecture is what makes a brand feel trustworthy and professional across every platform. The Bloom Again grid system is built on clarity, breathing room, and intentional proportion. Generous whitespace is not wasted space — it is a design choice that communicates calm and confidence.

9.1 Grid System

Breakpoint	Columns	Gutter Width	Outer Margins
Desktop (1200px+)	12 columns	24px	80px each side
Tablet (768–1199px)	8 columns	16px	40px each side

Breakpoint	Columns	Gutter Width	Outer Margins
Mobile (up to 767px)	4 columns	16px	20px each side

9.2 Content Layout Ratios

Layout Zone	Ratio	Description
Hero Section	60 : 40	60% imagery / 40% text and primary CTA
Feature Row	50 : 50	Equal image and text split, alternating placement
Card Grid	3-up / 2-up	Maximum 3 cards per row on desktop; 2 on tablet; 1 on mobile
Pull Quote Section	70 : 30	70% white / breathing space, 30% quote content
Footer	25 : 50 : 25	Logo zone / Navigation links / Social & legal

9.3 Spacing Scale — 8-Point System

All spacing decisions — margins, paddings, gaps, and offsets — must use values from the following 8-point scale. No arbitrary spacing values.

Token	Value	Common Use
space-1	4px	Micro-spacing: icon-to-label, inline badge padding
space-2	8px	Element padding: button vertical, tag spacing
space-3	16px	Component padding: card inner, input padding
space-4	24px	Card padding, section content margin
space-5	32px	Between sections within a group
space-6	48px	Major component gaps, between section blocks

Token	Value	Common Use
space-7	64px	Section-to-section vertical rhythm
space-8	96px	Hero padding, large section breaks
space-9	128px	Page-level top/bottom padding on desktop

9.4 Print Document Margins

Margin	Value	Note
Top	1.00 inch	Allows for running header if used
Bottom	1.00 inch	Allows for footer / page number
Left	1.25 inches	Wider for visual breathing room
Right	1.25 inches	Symmetrical with left margin
Gutter (spreads)	0.50 inch	For bound or folded publications

Layout Principle

Whitespace is not empty space — it is the rest between notes that makes music beautiful. The Bloom Again grid uses generous margins and spacing to give every element room to breathe. Resist the urge to fill every inch of a layout. Restraint is part of the brand.
